Banish Limescale With Aquamag-Plus®

- Costs just £3.00 per year to run
- Easily fitted in minutes
- Powered by low voltage mains adaptor

Hard water can cost you up to £190 per year in heating and maintenance costs. Your kettle, shower, dishwasher and central heating system all get clogged with calcium deposits that are limescale. The amazing electronic Aquamag is the fast solution to limescale. It plugs into any mains outlet and attaches in minutes to your cold water inlet. Produces an electronic polarising signal that "ionises" the hard water ions, preventing them adhering to the inside of your pipe-work, clearing old limescale and preventing new limescale from forming. The healthy mineral salts remain in solution so there is no taste lost. Costs less than £3 per year to run - pays for itself over and over.

Greenweld are pleased to offer the well known Rutland windchargers from Marlec Engineering. Rutland Windchargers are simple, reliable and efficient wind driven battery charging generators which have proved themselves in many diverse applications such as ocean going yachts, remote telecommunication sites, static caravans, isolated homes, navigational buoys, clinics in Africa and many more.

Rutland 503

A mini windcharger designed for marine use, the Rutland 503 is ideal for trickle charging battery banks of up to 100Ah.

- "Safety turbine" is a single injection moulding of 6 aerofoil blades protected by an outer ring.
- Trickle charges in windspeeds as low as 5 Knots
- Produces 25w in 19 Knots
- Produces up to 60w, nominally 5A @ 12V in 50 Knots
- Stainless steel fasteners and marine grade materials
- Turbine diameter of 500mm
- Compact turning radius of just 225mm, great for when space is at a premium
- Latest design improvements - the Rutland 503 is more reliable and efficient than ever!
- No radiated interference - complies fully with BS EN5008-1 1992
- 12V output

Rutland 913

The Rutland 913 is designed for marine use on board coastal and ocean going yachts usually over 10m in length. This unit will generate enough power to serve both domestic and engine batteries on board. The Rutland 913 is a popular sight in marinas, thousands are in use worldwide, boat owners like it's clean, aerodynamic lines and its quiet and continuous operation.

- Low wind speed start up of just 5 knots
- Generates 90w @ 19 knots, 24w @ 10 knots
- Delivers up to 250w
- One way only fit fine profile efficient aerofoil blades
- Three phase Rutland "unique" generator design
- Automatic thermostat protection in prolonged gales
- Modern, durable materials for reliability on the high seas
- No radiated interference - complies with EEC directive 89/336/EEC
- 12V and 24V versions available

Make Use Of The Sun's Energy & Start Saving Money & The Environment

Solar panels employ cutting-edge technology for you to capture the Sun's energy and convert it into an electrical current to charge 12V batteries. Harness solar energy to charge various batteries or create independent solar systems to power many home and garden appliances.

Just think of the many ways you could use the electricity generated by solar power! You can bring power to a shed, workshop or summer house for lighting, tools or an alarm system... power to electrical gates and fences - without running cables across your garden or through your home... you could ventilate your greenhouse with an electrical fan... you can trickle-charge your car, motorhome or boat battery to extend it's life; as for caravanning, with a solar panel to power your TV, radio or computer, you are not tied to a 240V hook-up on a busy camp site - you really can get away from it all!

Solar Panels - Which One Is Right For You?

Greenweld have selected solar panels from Solar Technology International which are designed to withstand harsh environments and have CE quality approvals and a ten year guarantee so you can be confident of their performance year after year.

All the solar panels (except the largest 80W version) come complete with a showerproof carry bag for transport and storage and a cable connection kit (low profile cable, in-line connector, in-line fuse, crocodile clips, terminals and instructions).

10W Solar Panel

Weekend use, replacing energy used to power lighting or water pump. This panel does not require a voltage regulator if used with a battery larger than 85Ah. Size 522 x 243 x 25mm.

STP010

£109.00

18W Solar Panel

Long weekend use where a water pump, lighting and limited TV or radio will be used. This panel must be used with a 8A voltage regulator (code STS01208). Size 638 x 278 x 25mm

£159.00

28W Solar Panel

For any extended tour where higher demands will be placed on the panel. This panel must be used with a 8A voltage regulator (code STS01208). Size 670 x 450 x 25mm.

STP028

£209.00

43W Solar Panel

A serious solar panel only for those with a sustained high power requirement. This panel must be used with a 8A voltage regulator (code STS01208). Size 996 x 446 x 35mm.

STP043

£279.00

80W Solar Panel

For permanent fitting where continued occupancy is expected. This panel must be used with a 8A voltage regulator (code STS01208). Size 1196 x 534 x 35mm. Solar panel only

STP080

£399.00

SEE 8A VOLTAGE REGULATOR BELOW

Solar panels can be mounted in various temporary, semi permanent or permanent ways. Ask us for details of mounting kits and accessories.

Solar Accessories

All solar panels, except the 10W kit, require a voltage regulator to ensure that the battery is not overcharged. The excess charge is either dissipated or can be used to charge a reserve battery. All 12V DC batteries can be used to store power generated from a solar panel, including lead acid, gel and carbon fibre battery types.

240V From Your 12V Battery

A wide range of inverters available to give you mains power from 12V DC. See page 22 for full details of great inverter offers.

Inverters from Sterling Power Products

These products are primarily designed in the UK and comply with the latest European standards. These units will give many years of excellent service and come with a two year guarantee. We have only featured a few items from this range. If you would like to see the full 24 page catalogue please ask us for a copy or visit www.greenweld.co.uk/data to download a brochure.

These two new inverters produce a Modified Sine wave and are available with a continuous output power of 100W or 150W. The output voltage is 230V/50Hz (5%) and they are available with 12V or 24V input via a standard cigar plug. Over-voltage and low-voltage cut-out are standard. Both models have a specially designed Multi-European socket which allows you to plug in a UK 13A plug or a European 2 or 3 pin plug.

100W "Coke Can" Inverter

This clever design fits securely into any standard drinks can holder so it won't roll around whilst you are driving. Price 29.99 100W continuous - 200W surge.

Pure Sine Wave Inverters

Most applications will work with the Modified Sine Wave unit as above but if you require a Pure Sine Wave inverter we can also supply the full range. They are significantly more expensive but you may need it because, for example, you have thyristor controlled equipment. Further details are available from our website. www.greenweld.co.uk/inverters

Slightly larger than the 'coke can' this inverter delivers up to 150W continuous - 200W surge.

RC-CAM - Miniature On-Board Camera System

The RC-CAM system transmits live high-quality colour video and audio up to 450 feet or more and is specially designed for use with radio controlled models.

NEW IMPROVED VERSION

Fantastic USB Computer Microscope for all the Family

New Improved Model - QX5™ USB Computer Microscope with higher resolution (640 x 480) and Superbrite LED illumination. View objects at up to 200x magnification on your computer screen. No more peering through the small lens. Now all the family can see what's under the microscope and capture it on the computer. This superb microscope magnifies anything 10x, 60x or 200x.

Much More Than Just Slides

The most impressive thing about this microscope is the fact you can take it out of its slide-viewing cradle. As long as it's still plugged into the computer, you can magnify anything with it: the hairs on your arm, your eyeball, flowers, or even the hidden microscopic text on money. While it is harder to focus using the microscope in handheld mode, it allows children to interact with a moving and alive world, rather than the pre-prepared, dead, flat world of the traditional microscope.

Movies Of The Microscopic Another great feature of the microscope is that it's not just a stills camera, it's a movie camera too. Carpet fly-overs, centipede's leg articulation or flies digesting their food can all be captured. You can even create a time-lapse movie. Photographing a sprouting seed over hours and then playing the images back as a movie is an amazing leap forward from the static view of a traditional microscope.

- See the image on your computer screen
- Save images on your computer

- 10x, 60x and 200x magnification
- As supplied by Intel to UK schools

- Works with Win98, ME, 2000 and XP
- Plugs straight into your PC's USB port

System Requirements:
Available USB port. Intel Pentium, Celeron 200MHz or processor that is comparable or faster. 32MB of RAM. Minimum 150MB hard drive space. CD-ROM Drive (to load software). DirectX8 graphics. Windows compatible sound device. Works on Microsoft Windows 98/98SE/Me/2000/XP.

Peltier Element

This thermo element enables you to produce electricity from the temperature difference between the two sides of the element. Alternatively apply an electric current and produce the cooling/heating effect. You'll be amazed at the results from just a 1.5V battery. Fascinating for all. Size 30 x 30 x 4.75mm.

Technical Data
Used as a Peltier element for cooling/heating:
Maximum Cold Performance: 17 Watt
Maximum Temperature Difference: 67 Degrees
Maximum Output: 8V
Maximum Current: 3.5 Ampere
Maximum Working Temperature (Constant): 70 Degrees for short time experimental purposes: 110 Degrees
Resistance: 1.8 Ohm
Heat Value: 140 mW/K
Weight: 15gm
For use as a Thermo element:
Thermo power: 27 mV/K

£19.99

Newton Reflecting Telescope

An incredible instrument with a glass mirror from the Baader planetarium in Germany. 2 objective lenses give you 16X and 30X magnification so you can use it effectively for observing the night sky. The main mirror is 70mm diameter 450mm focal length and both mirrors are front-silvered. The hexagonal tube design strengthens the telescope body and the telescope is fixed on a Dobson mounting. Black and Gold printing make this a decorative as well as functional telescope.

Sun-Filter For Reflecting Telescope

This is the proper filter for allowing observations of sun-spots. 100,000X Neutral density filter reduces the brightness of the image so avoiding damage to your eyes (WARNING: Do NOT look at the sun without using this!).

In this new book John Brignell, the acclaimed author of "Sorry Wrong Number!", looks at the history and practice of epidemiology and the validity or otherwise of the numerous claims made by its practitioners. Can we take seriously any of the regular media claims that, for example "Coffee causes cancer" or conversely "Coffee protects against cancer"? With chapters on "Cause and Effect", and "Fallacies" as well as looking at Cancer, Tobacco and Electromagnetic Radiation this book takes a sceptical view of the relationship between the epidemiologists, the media and politics and their influence on our health and well being.
